PREFACE.

REVISED BY THE INTERNATIONAL CLAIM AGENCY.

THIS index contains the names of many, many thousand persons who have left property for their missing kindred, or who have been advertised for in numerous London, Provincial, and Foreign newspapers as Heirs at Law, Next of Kin, Legatees, or in some other capacity to prove their claims to money, estates or other "windfalls."

To show the value of such an Index as this it is only necessary to mention one or two facts. From a Parliamentary Return recently issued, it appears that the Suitors' Fund in Chancery amounted in 1891 to upwards of £69,000,000, a considerable portion whereof may be classed as "Unclaimed."

In 1865 an Act was passed giving power to apply £1,000,000 from the Surplus Interest of these funds towards building the Royal Courts of Justice. That these funds can be easily recovered by the parties entitled thereto, on properly authenticated proofs of identity being adduced, is evidenced by the following extract from a Report of the Commissioners on Chancery Funds. Speaking of the publication in 1855 of a List of Causes wherein funds had been standing unclaimed for fifteen years and upwards, the Commissioners said: "Many persons came forward and preferred their claims, and about one-half of the Stock supposed to be unclaimed was transferred out of Court to successful claimants."

It also appears from a Parliamentary Return relating to Army Prize Money that successful claimants to the amount of £1,122,040 have been paid.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

From a further Report it appears that no less than £93,206, arising from Soldiers' Unclaimed Balances since 1863, has been handed over to the Patriotic Fund Commissioners, no Soldiers' Kin having responded to the London Gazette notifications.

As to unclaimed moneys arising from Intestates' Estates reverting to the Crown by reason of illegitimacy, etc., it is shown that since 1876 no less than £1,562,922 has been received by the "Crown's Nominee." After payments to successful claimants, and to persons having claims on the bounty of the Crown, etc., there remained in hand in 1890, £104,080.

Very large sums are also due to the representatives of holders of Government Stocks, as may be gleaned from the remarkable fact that no less than £143,000 was the amount of a "windfall" for Her Majesty's Exchequer from the accumulated fractions of a penny on these Stocks.

This index will be found of great assistance to those in search of a clue to Unclaimed Money, or to what has become of some relative long lost sight of. In cases where—even after an Advertisement is obtained—it is found that the property has been already recovered, the information is still valuable, inasmuch as anxiety is set at rest, and a great deal of time and money saved that would otherwise be spent in useless searches. Moreover, it has sometimes happened that funds have been paid over to the wrong person, but which have been recouped on the rightful claimant appearing.

Note—All communications should be addressed to the

INSTRUCTIONS

For Obtaining Copies of the Advertisements or Information Referred to in This Index.

The NAME and INDEX NUMBER should be distinctly written.

NOTICE TO INQUIRERS.

NUMBERS of Advertisements appear daily in the Newspapers calling on Heirs at Law, Next of Kin, Legatees, Missing Friends and others to come forward and claim property of all kinds and amounts in value. These notifications are often unseen at the time of publication by the parties really interested who perhaps only hear that they have been advertised for on their return from abroad many years afterwards. They are then naturally anxious to obtain a copy of the Advertisement, and ascertain if there is any Unclaimed Money or Property to which they are entitled. Hence the value of this Index. It enables the public to obtain this very desirable information for a small fee.

In addition to the names contained in this Index, the Compiler has Lists of persons who have died intestate in India, the Colonies, and elsewhere, and is constantly adding thereto. If, therefore, the name wanted is not found in this Index, the compiler suggests that particulars be sent to him of the circumstances under which information is sought, and careful search will then be made. If the name wanted is not found, suggestions will be made as to the best mode of procedure.

SEARCHES made at the RECORD and CHANCERY OFFICES and Summaries of Proceedings prepared. COPIES of WILLS, Letters of Administration, Birth, Marriage, and Burial Certificates obtained. Terms on application.

WE have a special scale of charges for SOLICITORS, and make a reduction for a number of advertisements.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

NOTE: This book contains the names of persons who have been advertised for during the periods stated at the head of each list.

Every day all the year round Attorneys, Executors and Administrators of Estates advertise in the daily papers for persons who are entitled to large sums of money by will or inheritance. In many cases these persons never see or hear of the advertisement, consequently, know nothing of the fortunes waiting for them, and very many live and die in obscurity and poverty who should be wealthy. This book has been compiled to afford any person whose name occurs in it an opportunity of obtaining a copy of the advertisement, together with the name and date of the paper in which it appeared.

The book also contains the names of cases to which funds stand to the credit of in the British Court of Chancery, as reported to the House of Commons by the Paymaster General. There are millions of dollars unclaimed in Chancery belonging to various persons scattered over the civilized globe. A complete list of such cases, reported by the Paymaster General of Great Britain will be found in this book. Full particulars as furnished by the Court of Chancery relating to any name on that List, can also be obtained from us.

If your name occurs in any of these Lists, we would strongly advise you to obtain a copy of the advertisement or particulars as furnished by the Court, when you will be enabled to judge whether you are entitled to any property or not. If you are not interested in any name, it is quite possible you will find the names of some friends who are, and you would be doing them a great favor by calling their attention to it, or notifying us of the fact with their addresses.

The Lists of names herein are prepared entirely from original matter, and copies of the advertisements from which the names are taken are on file in our office.

The Court of Chancery has power to grant leave to sue in forma pauperis to poor Claimants who can establish a prima facie claim. After such Order, no Fees or Costs are payable by the Claimant, to whom Solicitor and Counsel are assigned free of expense.

THE POOR PEOPLE'S CHANCERY SUIT.

Instructions how to RECOVER MONEY or PROPERTY from CHANCERY FREE of all Law Costs, Court Fees, and Counsel Fees.

A poor person who is not worth more than £25, except the subject matter of his claim, and who requires the assistance of the Court of Chancery, but is unable, through poverty, to engage the services of a Solicitor must present a petition to the High Court of Justice setting out his case and praying to be admitted to sue in forma pauperis; and that a Solicitor and Counsel may be assigned for him. A case, setting out his claim and the opinion of Counsel must be annexed to the petition, with an affidavit by a Solicitor verifying the statements in the case. On this petition the Court assigns the poor person (free of charge) the services of a Solicitor and Counsel, and the payment of Court Fees is dispensed with.

So also a poor person may defend a Chancery suit in forma pauperis; he may immediately on the writ being served, and without entering an appearance, present a petition to the Court for an order so to defend, supported by a similar case and affidavit to that above mentioned; neither Court fees nor fees to Counsel will then be payable.

If, however, he become, through the suit, entitled to any considerable amount of property, an order will be made dispaupering him; and he will then have to pay the subsequent fees out of the property he becomes possessed of.

It will thus be seen, that by the just and equitable laws of this country, no poor person need ever submit to a wrong or injury by a rich one.

Persons thinking there is money or property in Chancery to which they, or their families are entitled, and finding a name mentioned in the UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER to which they may be related, should procure a copy of the advertisement relating to the name, which will give full information, enabling them to form an opinion as to whether they are relatives or entitled, they may then (if too poor to employ a Solicitor) apply to the Court of Chancery and RECOVER the MONEY or PROPERTY FREE OF ANY CHARGES OR FEES whatsoever (unless successful).

Full and authentic copy of the original advertisement relating to any name in Register giving all information necessary to lodge a claim will be forwarded on application.

HER SHARE WILL BE $200,000.

News from Mrs. Gallienne, Who Went to Europe to Get a Legacy from Her Uncle.

(From the New York Herald.)

HUNTINGDON, L. I.—The friends of Mrs. Abram Gallienne, who went to London last month to receive her share of the estate of her uncle, received news from her to the effect that her sons, James, Frederick and Samuel, will each get $10,000, while she says she believes her own share will be about $200,000.

James J. Smith, the uncle of Mrs. Abram Gallienne, died in London, on April 6 last. Mrs. Gallienne was notified by cable and sailed for England a few days later. She was reported at the time to be his only heir.

Mr. Smith's fortune was estimated at $250,000.

PROPERTY AWAITS HER.

(From the New York Sun, Feb. 7, 1899.)

Mayor Van Wyck to-day received from the State Department at Washington a copy of a letter from Walter J. Hoffman, United States Consul at Manheim, Germany, who is trying to find the proper claimants for certain money in his possession.

Consul Hoffman writes to the State Department under date of December 10 that various sums of money within his Consular jurisdiction await the claims of heirs who are now residents of the United States. The Consul says: "The first instance relates to the death in Pforzheim, June 16, 1898, of the widow of Theodore Maytholer, nee Gerwig. Two half sisters are believed to be in the City of New York, one Lesitte Gerwig, married to a Mr. Wiedermaier; the other, Marie Gerwig, wife also of a Mr. Weidermaier.

"The second instance relates to the death in Karlsruhe, on August 25, 1898, of the widow of the Rev. Karl Sutter, by which property is left to the following named persons, whose addresses are not at present known: Ernest Sutter, aged 46, last heard of as a resident of Chicago, not heard of for 25 years; children of Karl Sutter, named Louise Bertha, Laura and Felicetas Sutter; Theodore Sutter, last heard of as a resident in Nashville, Tenn."

The amounts of the estates mentioned are not stated.

AN UNEXPECTED FORTUNE.

Devonshire has been truly called the garden of England. One of its beautiful villages inspired Goldsmith's immortal "Sweet Auburn;" and lovers of nature, wearied with the din and strife of life's incessant struggle, have delighted to wander at ease through the luxuriant fern-clad woods, along the quiet, drowsy lanes, and in the deep, calm, sleepy dells. In no other spot of England's lovely land do the birds sing so sweetly or the flowers give out such exquisite perfume. Here, throughout the long summer day, the bees hum drowsily on from flower to flower, sipping lovingly the sweet juice which forms their wealth, and which the flowers so lovingly yield. What a contrast to the fierce contest man wages with his fellow man for his wealth! In a small village in the heart of this beautiful country stands a laborer's cottage. It is a picturesque old place, in the midst of a large garden, such as we still find in some rural districts surrounding the humble homes of our agricultural laborers. The front of the cottage is covered with woodbine, honeysuckle, and roses, through which two little lattice windows peep out upon the passers-by, while one gable end is completely hidden by a large, luxuriant grape vine. Until quite recently this was the abode of an old laborer and his family, who, though thrifty and industrious, had been all their lives extremely poor. Life to this poor man had been a desperate struggle, and many a time the meal consisted only of vegetables from the garden which he cultivated so carefully. Hard work had been his portion all his life, and it never entered his head that the world contained for him aught beyond the scant wage due to his hard and cheerless toil. All his relations, so far as he knew, had been poor, and there was no one from whom he could expect a single penny. Happening, however, to come across a list of names of persons who had been advertised for to claim money and property in Chancery, he was greatly surprised and very much agitated to find his own name in full; and being a man of more than ordinary intelligence, for his class, he at once communicated with the publishers of the list, which has resulted in establishing his claim to an enormous fortune, left nearly 100 years ago! If it had been his good luck to have seen this list years ago, what a life of misery would have been spared to him and his family! Locked up in the Court of Chancery there is nearly £100,000,000 in money and property belonging to the people, which the Chancery paymaster would be only too glad to get rid of if the owners would but apply for it in the right way. The rightful owners of all this wealth are scattered through all classes of society, and many a toiler of both sexes in the professions, the counting-house, the factory, the warehouse, the shop, and the field is entitled to come forward and claim a fortune. There is no longer any mystery about this great mine of wealth.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, October 11, 1885.

DEATH OF A WEALTHY RECLUUSE.

Mr. E. Herford, the city coroner, held an inquest yesterday in reference to the death of James Swift, aged 74 years, and lately residing at No. 17 Horne street, Canal street, Ancoats. The deceased was a man of penurious habits, and as he was of a solitary and retiring disposition, seldom leaving his house, very little was known of him in the neighborhood where he lived, though it was sometimes whispered that, notwithstanding his apparent poverty, he was possessed of great wealth. That there was good foundation for this idea subsequently appeared. He was last seen alive at dinner time on Tuesday, at which time he was brushing the doorstep. Two hours afterward the attention of Police Constable Henry Parker was called to the fact that the shutters of his house were fast closed. Not knowing what to make of this, the officer tried to gain an entrance, and was at length obliged to force open the back door. He found the deceased lying on his back on the kitchen floor, with a chair on top of him. He appeared to have been sitting in the chair, and to have fallen off, causing it to topple over with him. The body was cold, life being quite extinct; and the deceased's watch had stopped at half-past two o'clock. The house was in a very dirty condition, and there was evidence that its occupant had never slept in bed. In the course of examination which disclosed these things, a safe was found containing deeds and mortgage bonds representing about £12,000 worth of property, and the large sum of £2,000 in gold. Mr. Thomas Gibbon, estate agent, No. 6 Burton st., Salford, told the coroner that he had known the deceased for 37 years. He had always lived a retired life. The witness had often told him that he did not take proper care of himself; and once, when he was ill, advised him to get a doctor. He had no relations. Mr. Sutherland, surgeon, No. 70 Ashton New Road, who had made a post-mortem examination of the body, said that death had resulted from an enlarged heart. The deceased had evidently been in the habit of drinking, but not to excess. The body was well nourished, and food was found in the stomach. A verdict of "Death from natural causes" was returned.—Examiner and Times, Nov. 26, 1875.

Being childless, she left you a small estate worth a Few Thousand Dollars. A NICE WINDFALL.

A few days ago a man named N. Nolan, who lives at Rock Ferry, and is in poor circumstances, received the gratifying intelligence from a Liverpool solicitor that his only brother, who went to Jamaica some years ago, had died and left him a fortune of £17,000 in cash, besides a large amount of property in that island. The news at first was scarcely credited by the poor fellow, but subsequent inquiries confirmed the fact, and arrangements have been made for him to proceed to Dublin to substantiate his claim and receive the money. His daughter, Jane Nolan, is at present engaged as a servant at the Mitre Inn, Preston, but she will leave with her father.—Liverpool Courier, September 1 1871.—38-27.

A LOST HEIR.

The following story of a lost heir is told by a Tasmanian Paper, the Cornwall Chronicle: "About seven years ago, in the City of London, a cheesemonger died, leaving cash to the tune of £100,000 to be quarreled over, fought and disputed for, by the reputed heirs at law. Advertisements were inserted at different times in the English newspapers, and many a claimant a la Tichborne was forthcoming. The lawyers were, however, not satisfied that any of the numerous claimants were the right men, and what has just transpired proves they were correct in their judgment, as the right man has turned up in the person of the deceased cheesemonger's brother, George Hutley, who arrived in this colony some forty years ago. He was discovered by Mr. H. Stevens, a Victorian barrister, splitting up in the ranges in that colony, taken to Melbourne, shipped on board a steamer, and brought to Launceston, and then taken to Hobart Town, where he was identified as the veritable George Hutley who arrived in Tasmania some forty years ago. After all the necessary documents are procured to prove without a shadow of doubt the man's identity, he will proceed to England to claim his inheritance.—The Manchester Weekly Times, June 14, 1873.

A RUSSIAN MILLIONAIRE.

The Russian nobleman, County Koucheleff, a man of enormous wealth, and a well-known amateur of art, has just died suddenly at St. Petersburg, from the effects of an apoplectic attack. By his will his vast properties pass to his nephew; and his brother-in-law, the famous spiritualist medium, Dr. Douglas Home, derives no benefit from that document.—The Times, May 31, 1870.

THE WOODMAN'S WINDFALL.

A woodman named Robson, living at Hexham, North-umberland, has just succeeded in establishing his claim to a quarter of a million money, now vested in the Chancery Court. It seems that in the early part of last century a wine and spirit merchant named Robson married a Miss Walker, of Corbridge, and started business in High street, Manchester, when that street was in the heart of the old town. The lady died in Manchester without issue, and so did another lady to whom Mr. Robson was subsequently married. The whole of his wife's fortunes, therefore, reverted to Robson. From the death of his second wife to old age he lived alone and retired from business, keeping a man and a woman servant only. The servants seem to have conspired together to obtain the fortune of their employer. Foul measures were adopted, and one morning the old man Robson was found dead, having been murdered in the cellar. His watch and all the money on his person was taken, but the murderers got nothing more. The servants went off together out of the country, and were never heard of again. There being no heir, the whole of the fortune went into the custody of the Court of Chancery, where it has remained for 141 years, and now amounts to over £250,000. About three years ago, however, the poor woodman mentioned above discovered that he was a direct heir of a brother of this Mr. Robson, of Manchester, his grandfather having been brother to the wine merchant. The woodman made inquiries, and satisfied of the validity of his claim he laid it before the Court of Chancery, and this morning, it is said, he heard from his counsel (Serjeant Parry), that his right to the fortune was yetserday fully established, and on the fourth day of January next he will receive this enormous windfall.—Evening Standard, September 10, 1885.

A CAUSE CELEBRE IN AUSTRALIA.

A curious case was recently before the Supreme Court of the Australian province of Victoria. A short time back died intestate, in the neighborhood of Melbourne, a brewer named Graham, leaving a widow and family and real and personal property amounting to between £70,000 and £80,000. The widow applied for letters of administration. An attorney who had, or professed to have, a claim on the estate entered a caveat. On the hearing of the cause it came out that the deceased had been twice married—the first time to a Jane Lancaster, at Beverly, in Yorkshire, on the 7th of September, 1820, and that by this wife he had two sons, John and William, who never left England, and are still living in their native place in very humble circumstances. At what time Mr. Graham emigrated did not appear but it was shown that in 1840 he was married again in Melbourne, to a Mrs. Crook, an apparent widow, with a family by her first husband, who was formerly in the Ordnance Department in Hobart Town. One of these children, a Mrs. Cozens (a married woman), lodged a caveat against her mother (Mrs. Graham), obtaining letters of administration, alleging that at the time of her intermarrying with Graham in 1840 her first husband, Crook, was alive, an inmate of the lunatic asylum at Hobart Town and that he lived for several years afterwards. Recriminatory affidavits were filed on behalf of the mother denying the facts alleged against herself, and alleging that the daughter's opposition was merely for the purpose of extorting money; that she, the daughter, was herself in the position charged on the mother, and that her first husband, a man named Weatherly, was still alive. Be this as it may, it very distinctly appeared from correspondence and certificates forwarded from England by a Mr. Champney, a solicitor instructed by Graham's younger son at Beverly, that Graham's Beverly wife did not die until 1860; so that when Graham went through the marriage ceremony with Mrs. Crook in 1840 the proceeding was null. The above stated facts would probably never have come to light at all, but for the circumstance that Graham, being in bad health, wrote home to his English sons about a month before his death, one of whom, seeing a fortune in the wind, at once instructed Mr. Champney to communicate with the father on their behalf. But the father died before Mr. Champney's letter reached the colony. The Beverly sons seem to be the only next of kin, and therefore they will apparently be lifted straight from penury into the possession of some £40,000 each. A case so rich in bigamy is not often met with.—Manchester Examiner, July 11, 1871.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.

By returns presented to the House of Commons the amount of the Suitor's Stock and Cash standing in the Court of Chancery is upward of £77,693,769. Of this sum a large portion is unclaimed. There is also an enormous sum standing in the Bank of England as Unclaimed Dividends. Large amounts are due to representatives of persons who have died intestate, and the amount of Army and Navy Prize Money unclaimed is nearly £2,000,000.

THE MANGINI-BROWN ESTATE.

It is not often that persons have wealth suddenly thrust upon them, and the five Italians who discovered themselves to be jointly entitled to more than £200,000 cannot be looked upon as otherwise than exceedingly fortunate persons. The money in question was the whole of the residuary estate of an aged lady named Maria Mangini-Brown, who died in 1871 in Hertford Street, Mayfair. Mrs. Brown was the daughter of one Antonio Mangini, better known in England as Anthony Mangin, who filled various different positions in life, and subsequently, towards the latter part of the last century, found himself agent and Consul General in London of the Ligurian or Genoese Republic, one of those small states practically obliterated by the first Napoleon. He was a commercial man who amassed much wealth; and married an Englishwoman who predeceased him. Mangini himself died in 1803, leaving the bulk of his property to his daughter Maria, who is supposed to have married one Aquila Brown, by whom she had a daughter, who died before her, and left descendants, who, unluckily for themselves are unable to produce any certificate or other evidence of a marriage between Brown and their grandmother. All Maria Mangini-Brown's issue, therefore, being either extinct or shut out, it became necessary, on her death in 1871, to seek her Next of Kin from among Consul Mangini's descendants, she not having left any valid will. None of these being forthcoming, the treasury administered to her estate, and assumed possession of her accumulated wealth, subsequently paying it into the Court of Chancery. Here, then, was a wide field for claimants to come from. There was no reason to suppose Antonio Mangini illegitimate, and he must, therefore, have Next of Kin in existence somewhere. They came eventually, and were no less than thirteen in number, of whom one, a Mrs. Lane, actually got a Chancery decree made in her favor, ordering the payment to her alone of nearly the whole of the £200,000. Before, however, she could enjoy the fruits of her judgment, certain Italians named Freccia, proved themselves nearer of kin than Mrs. Lane to the defunct Consul and got her judgment reversed in their favor. —Next of Kin Gazette.

HEIR WANTED TO A FORTUNE.

A romantic application was made to Mr. Woolyrch at Westminster. The applicant desired, if possible, to learn the present situation of a person named Ambrose, who fifteen years since was committed to a reformatory at that court, and subsequently shipped to Australia. It appears that the friendless boy of fifteen years ago is now the heir to a fortune.—Daily Telegraph, January 6, 1873.

A RELIGIOUS BEQUEST.

A great stir is being made in Scotland just now about the administration of a fund left for religious purposes some time since, called the Ferguson Bequest, and the Glasgow Herald gives interesting particulars of the individual by whom it was devised. Mr. Ferguson had no claims to the title of philanthropist till he was on his death-bed. His chief pleasure in life seems to have consisted in amassing an immense fortune, and something of niggardliness marked his conduct in that not very amiable pursuit. When worth hundreds of thousands he could squabble like a beggar for a sixpence.

He was altogether too grasping to enjoy his wealth, but he seems also to have been of too shrewd a disposition to be able to feel all the raptures of the miser. He used to say to his friends: "I am a poor rich man—burdened with money, but I have nothing else." He was in the act of signing a cheque for ten thousand pounds when he was struck with paralysis, and the cheque remained after his death with only half of his signature appended. He remembered on his death-bed the poor relations whom he had forgotten during his lifetime, and he made amends for his neglect of the interests of religion and charity by some noble bequests. Upwards of a hundred private persons, some of them already in good circumstances, shared in his wealth, but the sudden transformation which took place among many of them, from poverty to affluence, were both astonishing and amusing. Day laborers, masons, grocers, and in one case, a poor hawker of fish, became possessors of thousands. More than half a million of money was thus disposed of. Mr. Ferguson's great religious bequest somehow seems like a lump sum paid to Heaven for oversights, during a long, intensely worldly, and even mean sort of life. He was not what is called a religious man. Some have asserted that he was a member of the Church of Scotland; but the Herald believes it would be more correct to say that he had not been within the walls of a church for forty years before his death. When near the close of his life his stoical indifference "to these things" broke down somewhat, but too proud to go to church, he actually asked a minister of Irvine, who was at the time preaching on Sunday evenings in the streets, to come opposite his door and deliver his sermon there. And this "poor rich man," wrapped up in shawls, sat in the lobby and listened to it. This was the man who left about £400,000 for the spread of the Gospel, who made it a condition that the trustees should be communicants of churches which they represented, and who was specially careful to note in his will that the books of the fund should be balanced every year, on the 31st of December, except when that day fell upon a Sunday.—The Manchester Weekly Timse, December 29, 1866.—40-27.

An authentic copy of the advertisement calling upon the legatees of Mr. Ferguson will be supplied for $5.00.

she had died intestate. Since then a will, dated in 1832, has been found, and some correspondence with Cardinal Wiseman, including the draught of a will, dated 1855. There was no evidence of the latter will having been executed, and the executors under the will of 1832 are dead. Accordingly, on Tuesday, in the Probate Court, the former letters of administration were revoked, and fresh letters were granted to the two gentlemen already named, for the administration of the estate under the will.—Illustrated London News, March 26, 1881.

DORMANT FUNDS IN CHANCERY, £77,693,769.

The following is an extract from an article in the London Times, July 4, 1884:

Very few persons have any conception of the enormous sums of money which pass through the hands of the Paymaster General in Chancery, and of which a very considerable proportion remains permanently under his control through the decease of the parties immediately interested, and the absence of their next of kin. So far as the Court of Chancery was concerned, it could do nothing towards restoring to their rightful owners those properties which, from various causes, had been placed and had remained in its coffers as the highest repository of absolute security and public faith. So long as the actual litigants, trustees, or wards survive there is always the guarantee of the effectual discharge of an onerous trust, and with it the conference on the public of an enormous and in many cases a quite inestimable obligation. But once a case is dormant, from whatever cause, the court can take no initiative, and the funds or property originally confided to it in trust remain practically inaccessible to those who would be its rightful owners. The publication of these triennial lists is the first step yet taken towards facilitating the discovery and recovery of these funds, which represent a certain and increasing percentage of the Chancery returns. Those returns show a steady and continual growth, and although there are no published data to reveal the exact amount of dormant funds, there is no doubt that it swells in proportion to the total payments into the Chancery exchequer. The latest official returns of Chancery payments and receipts show that whereas in February, 1873, there was a balance in hand of £65,300,757, this sum had risen at the end of February, 1883, in the course of ten years, to £77,693,769, an increase of more than 12 millions sterling in that portion of the national capital which, if not absolutely unfructifying, is still inoperative for private or public advantage. Of these 12 millions a certain percentage will remain dormant forever, while of the whole 77 millions that were on balance in the early part of last year, not far short of one million comes under the category of, and is included in, the present list—that is to say, each separate case relates to a sum of more than £50, which has lain dormant for the space of fifteen years.—The Times, July 4, 1884.

FIGHTING FOR AN ENGLISH ESTATE.

New York Herald, February 9, 1899.

By the death of Mrs. Caroline Selina Aldridge at Johnstown, Pa., last Friday, her relatives have been stirred anew to make a fight for an English entailed estate believed to be worth millions of dollars and including a title and a whole gallery of ancestors. All the Aldridges say they have documents to enforce their claims as heirs of Baron Aldridge, who is supposed to have died in England in 1860.

Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Eaton, of Hartford, Conn., says a dispatch to the Herald, has announced that she will do all the fighting for herself and the other claimants, among whom is a 16-year-old boy, a grandson of Mrs. Aldridge and the son of Richard Aldridge, who died several months ago in Atlantic City, N. J. The boy is the heir in the main line. Another heir is Frederick Aldridge, a cripple—the second eldest brother of Mrs. Eaton's brother.

According to the story of Mrs. Eaton, there was a certain Lord Aldridge, who owned a large estate called Headington Hall, in the parish of St. Clements, Oxfordshire, England. There were several thousand acres of land and many tenants. There were also several factories owned by Lord Aldridge. The land is supposed to have increased in value recently by the discovery of mineral deposits. Mrs. Eaton says that rents and other revenues have been accumulating for years.

Mrs. Eaton's parent did not please his father and was told to leave the house of his ancestors. He was Richard William Edward Aldridge. He made several unsuccessful attempts toward a reconciliation. After the death of Lord Aldridge, the American Aldridges allege, an overseer of the place, Tyrel Knapp, went to live in Headington Hall. The Aldridges here assert that Knapp obtained possession of the estate and used its immense resources to defend it from the claims of the rightful heirs.

Mrs. Eaton says her mother made frequent attempts to get her property, and made so determined an effort she received several offers to compromise. She spurned all these and sought to raise more money to enforce her claim.

Mrs. Eaton declares that after Baron Aldridge's death her mother was subjected to persecution. Her allowance was cut down and eventually, on some pretext, stopped altogether. Being a woman of resource, Lady Aldridge determined that she would make a living for herself and children till her eldest son should come of age, when he would assert his claims to his father's title and estate. Leaving her children in England she went to Philadelphia and started a millinery shop. Then she sent for her children to educate them. After the Civil War she moved to Johnstown and continued her business. In the flood she lost all her property.

One daughter married Charles Adams, of Waterbury; another is Mrs. Jennie Dick, of Camden, who was the youngest child, and then there is the crippled son Frederick, in Johnstown. Mrs. Eaton is the eldest of the children.

Mrs. Eaton says that she has received assurances from influential friends in England who would be glad to see the family get its rights, and that they have proffered financial aid. Mrs. Eaton lives in an apartment in Pearl street, Hartford, Conn., and ekes out her husband's salary by doing lace work.

From Atlantic City, N. J., comes the grandson, Charles Aldridge, a claimant. His father left certain papers, which are supposed to establish his claim. The boy, his mother and his younger brother, William, live with W. M. Souder, who married one of the daughters of Mrs. Aldridge. Mr. Souder said yesterday to a correspondent of the Herald that he had assumed charge of the documents which had been left by the son of the supposed baron.

HERMIT'S FORTUNE OF $1,250,000 GOES TO THE CROWN.

Boston Sunday American, February 12, 1905.

London, Feb. 11.—Becoming a recluse after the discovery that he was an unrecognized son, George L. A. Wilson, once a figure in society, died intestate and his fortune of $1,250,000 goes to the Crown.

The story of the man's life is remarkable. He was the unrecognized son of Sir John Wilson, once commander of the English forces in Ceylon. Educated at Cambridge, upon graduation he took a commission in the Guards and his commanding figure and social graces made him a favorite in the highest society.

On his father's death young Wilson learned of his left-handed parentage and the discovery so upset him that he resigned his commission in the Guards and left society forever. That was forty years ago, and since that time Wilson has been a recluse and woman hater. He lived for a time on his estate at Brentwood, seeing no one but an old man servant.

The Lord Chancellor, hearing of his mode of life, had him forcibly removed to the Brentwood Asylum, but Wilson's solicitor secured his release. Wilson then moved to Folkestone. As George Boreham he bought a number of houses there and moved from one to the other at night. No one ever saw him in the daytime.

He was a vegetarian, and no doctor attended him for thirty years. He gave away thousands of pounds in charity. Nobody in real distress appealed to him in vain.

A LARGE INHERITANCE.

A petition has been presented to the French National Assembly by Mdle. Rosalie Cotton of Epinal, in the Vosges, praying that the Minister of Finance may be directed to acknowledge her right to the succession of the Sieur Thierry, a French citizen who died in Venice in 1676, and whose estate, having been lodged in the treasury of Venice, was removed thence to France by general Bonaparte, who informed the Directory, under date 11 Floreal, an V., that the Venetian Senate had handed to him the succession of Thierry, then amounting to 20,000,000 francs. The amount is said to be now 100 millions of francs, or about four millions sterling. Jean Thierry was the son of a shoemaker of Chateau Thierry, and left his father's house at the age of 14. He was left a fortune by one of the companions of his adventures, after which he settled in Venice, and made a will, leaving his property to his brothers and sisters. Some 300 people have claimed this property, and the First Chamber of Paris has now the claim of Mdle. Cotton before it.—Manchester Evening News, Jan. 22, 1875.

NEVER SAW FATHER—GETS HIS FORTUNE.

Pretty Young Girl's Wealth, Amounting to $2,000,000, Came to Her Aladdinlike.

Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph, Wednesday, Feb. 8, 1905.

New York, Feb. 8.—Miss Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, a young woman of 18, has come to New York to make her home, and has asked the sanction of the Supreme Court for an expenditure of the $100,000 to purchase and furnish a house in which to locate her retinue of servants and large personal establishment. In three years she becomes absolute mistress of a fortune of over $2,000,000, but the possession of that sum will hardly be a novel experience to the young woman, as she has controlled an income larger than that enjoyed by the average professional man or man of business accounted wealthy, since she was a child of 8, with unrestricted command over its expenditure.

Servants paid from her own purse have waited upon her word or nod, and her coachman and footman have saluted when she gave her orders while driving in her smart equipages.

As a child she has patronized the most fashionable dressmakers in this country and Europe, and said her lessons to a governess and tutors of her own selection. When she chose, she had only to give her orders, and maids and men servants packed trunks and boxes, and with her personal retinue accompanying her she was ready to travel at home or abroad wherever her fancy dictated.

Miss Dorothea's mother has been her constant companion and mentor, but the income which supported their establishment was Miss Dorothea's.

The Aladdinlike story of the child's life is in its last chapters. She becomes "grown up" in the eyes of the law in three years more, and will be looked upon as a very wealthy woman who has enjoyed unusual advantages and has made good use of them in fitting herself to occupy a position to which her wealth entitles her.

But Miss Dorothea Crouse comes back to the country of her father a sufferer from a disease of the spine, and her money cannot give her the full enjoyments of health and pastimes dear to the young. She has come here to establish her home because she is tired of traveling abroad, and she has asked the courts for a sufficient share of her accumulated surplus over her original fortune to give her a home in which she may reside permanently.

Miss Crouse and her mother came to New York a few days ago after an extended residence abroad, and their friends found that the rich little girl had grown into a rich big girl of sweet disposition, not at all spoiled by her wealth.

Twelve years ago D. Edgar Crouse, the wealthiest man in Syracuse, died, and the fortune he left was estimated at $5,000,000. He had posed as a bachelor. He left a will making liberal bequests to friends and employes, and directed that the residue of his estate go to his "next of kin."

A number of cousins and more distant relatives imagined themselves the heirs to the large fortune. But Mrs. Eula Henry Potulicka, who was a beautiful girl and daring equestrienne of Kentucky some years before, advanced a claim on behalf of her 6-year-old daughter, Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, for the estate of Mr. Crouse, saying that Mr. Crouse had married her in London under the name of "Wilson," and that Dorothea was born of that union. A compromise was effected by which Dorothea was allowed $2,000,000 from her father's estate, to be held in trust for her by the New York Security and Trust Co. until she became of age.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

The golden life of the little girl began immediately after this compromise when Dorothea, then almost 8 years old, was allowed by the Surrogate's Court an income of $7,500 a year, a thousand dollars for each year of her life, to support and educate her.

A governess, maid, cook, butler and coachman were engaged for the child, horses and carriages were bought that she might enjoy drives in the park. She could have all the toys that her heart desired, so many frocks that she could not count them, and if she wished expensive sweetmeats she could buy such large quantities that neither she nor her little friends could begin to eat them all.

Dorothea began to travel and spent much of her time abroad. Her education was begun in England and continued later in Berlin, Brussels and Paris. In these places she added to her knowledge of languages, music and art, and she proved a clever and earnest pupil, and soon became a very accomplished child for her years.

When she was 12 years of age the court was asked to increase her income because she had outgrown the first allowance. An increase to $12,000 annually was authorized.

The added amount permitted Miss Dorothea to make a proportionate increase in the size of her personal establishment, as she was then able to spend $33.95 daily without exceeding her income.

On this income the 12-year-old child arranged her expenditures in the following way:

Living and traveling expenses.....	$ 3,000
Carriage	1,400
Education	3,500
Governess and servants	1,800
Clothes	1,500
Spending	800

Total$12,000

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

This arrangement has evidently been considered satisfactory by the girl, for the courts have been asked for no further increase in her income. She is probably content to wait until she is 21 years old to control an income which now amounts to $36,000 a year, and then if she finds that the home she wishes to purchase now for $100,000 is inadequate she can spend as much as she pleases for a new one.

Dorothea was 10 years old when it was found that a tendency to lateral curvature of the spine had developed. The most eminent physicians in Europe were consulted, but could hold out no hope for a cure. The disease itself is not necessarily fatal, but it diminishes the enjoyment of life in a very marked degree as it develops, and may lead to a lasting deformity of the body. Miss Crouse and her mother hope that in a restful life which the girl may lead in her own home in New York a great improvement and possibly a cure may be effected.

Mr. R. A. Bayford moved the President for a grant of letters of administration to the estate of Mr. Nicholson, deceased, who died intestate, to his next of kin. The deceased had been a private in the Grenadier Guards, and afterwards a commissionaire. He had amassed during a number of years no less than £20,000, chiefly invested in realty. Upon his decease, and subsequent knowledge by his nephews of the magnitude of the estate for a man of so humble a calling, his remaining and nearer relative, his sister, was cited to appear in the usual way. This she did not do, however, and the President, in granting letters of administration as prayed, remarked that the sister's non-appearance was not the least remarkable feature in the case.—Daily Telegraph, July 9, 1879.

RECOVERY OF MONEY FROM CHANCERY AFTER THE LAPSE OF 138 YEARS.

AN UNEXPECTED INHERITANCE.—Robert Robson, a woodman at Hexham; over sixty years of age, has established, in the Court of Chancery, his right to funds which have been in the custody of the court for 138 years; and are said to amount now to nearly £250,000. In the early part of last century a brother of Robson's grandfather having married an heiress, a Miss Walker, of Corbridge, went to Manchester, where he began business as a wine and spirit merchant. She died without having issue, as also did another lady to whom her husband was subsequently married. The widower was murdered by "some person or persons unknown," and his property, then large, went into the Court of Chancery, where it has remained until now.—Daily Telegraph, December 16 1881.

The above paragraph shows that money CAN BE RECOVERED from the Court of Chancery after the lapse of any number of years. In this case the sum of £250,000 has been paid out of Court after remaining UNCLAIMED for upwards of ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY YEARS.

RICH PAUPERS.

Information has just been received that a man under the care of the Exeter guardians is entitled to £5,000. For some time past, however, the poor fellow has been in the lunatic ward, but there appears to be some hope of his recovery. As the lunatic cannot himself move for the recovery of the money, the guardians have decided to take the necessary steps. The man has a sister, who is also in the workhouse.—Mid-Surrey Gazette, July 15, 1882.

It was to-day discovered at Sedgley that an old woman, named Catherine Walker, residing at Upper Gornal, who has for years been in receipt of out-door relief from the guardians, is the possessor of 1,400 yards of valuable freehold land, and steps will be taken by the proper authorities to obtain the deeds, and afterwards sell the land in order to reimburse the guardians for the money given to Walker as relief.—Standard, August 14, 1885.

THE HERTFORD ESTATES.

A compromise has been arranged between the Right Hon. AN AMERICAN MILLIONAIRE.

It is reported that Mr. John Jacob Astor has transferred all his estate to his son, Mr. William Waldorf Astor, the United States minister to Italy, reserving to himself merely an annuity of $100,000. The total value of the estate is unknown, but it is probably $70,000,000 (about £14,000,000 sterling), and it consists mostly of real estate in New York City. The objects of this step are said to be to preserve the estate in its integrity, to prevent litigation about his will, and to conceal the value of his possessions.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, September 9, 1883.

DEATH OF A MISER.

An inquest was held at Well, Yorkshire, on Tuesday, by the county coroner, on the body of Richard Scurrah, blacksmith, aged 68 years. The deceased, who lived in a hovel near the village, not having been seen for some days, the house was broken into by the police, who found him dead in bed. On the premises being examined, upwards of £3,000 was found upon a beam in the kitchen, and mortgage deeds for several hundreds of pounds were also found in an old chest. As the deceased had no relatives, the whole of the money will go to the Crown.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, February 18, 1883.

A FORTUNE FOR SOMEONE.

Inquiries have recently been made to discover the lawful heir to a fortune left by a man named Taylor or Tylor, who made a fortune in the sugar plantations of the West, died some fifteen or sixteen years ago, leaving all his money to his wife. She died within the last twelve-month, leaving her money to Daniel Frost, of Suffolk. The result of the inquiries up to the present has been the discovery of two persons, either of whom may be the heir. One is Joseph Frost, of Ipswich, in the employ of the Dock Commission, and living at the small round house at the end of the Promenade, a nephew of Daniel Frost, of Ipswich, who had some relatives of the name of Taylor, who went across the Atlantic forty-eight years ago. The other is Joseph Frost of Woolbridge, nephew to Daniel Frost, of Woolbridge. He had relations of the name of Taylor, who went out fifty-one years ago. Although Joseph Frost, of Ipswich, and Joseph Frost, of Woolbridge, are distantly related, it seems that Taylor and Tylor are two distinct per-

The London Gazette of December 31, contains lists of sums held by the War Office on account of the personal estates of various soldiers deceased, which are published with a view of inducing the legal claimants to the amounts to apply for them. The Morning Advertiser remarks: "We have more than once pointed out that so long as the said lists are only published in the Gazette and the Army List, the object of their publication will certainly not be generally answered. The only people who take in the Gazette or see the Army List are the very ones who cannot by any chance be the claimants to the outstanding sums. One list, for instance, is published in Tuesday's Gazette for the fifth time. The amounts referred to in it are not large, we admit; but such sums as £45 15s. 9d. and £32 7s. 4d. would not so long

DEATH OF A CLAIMANT TO A FORTUNE.

The inquiry into the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Mobbs, the claimant, it was stated, to a fortune of £100,000, and who died in consequence of cold and want, was resumed on Wednesday. It was stated by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joshua Mobbs, that the property in question included the Shepherdess Fields and the Britannia Fields, and extended from the south side of the City Road to near the New River at Highbury, and eastward as far as the Kingsland Road, or some parts farther, and comprehended a considerable portion of Hoxton. It was called the Wenlock Manor estate. The copy of the will (produced) would show that Mr. Williams Mobbs, and his elder brother, James, were bequeathed the entire property by their father, Mr. John Mobbs, of Islington. Witness's husband, Mr. Joshua Mobbs, was the son of Mr. William Mobbs. Although the will was made in 1790, it was not proved till the year 1856. The executors named in it—John Farmer and John Davis—kept it concealed, and brought up the children, contrary to the direction of the testator, in a poor way; afterwards apprenticing them to a shoemaker, and all the while keeping them ignorant of their rights. In 1839 they seemed to have acquired some inkling of them, and commenced law proceedings; but the matter went from the hands of one solicitor to another, and great delay and expense was incurred in satisfying the Probate Court that, notwithstanding the long lapse of time, the will was genuine. Since 1856, when probate was at last obtained, delay and expense had been incurred in consequence of the parties having the wrongful possession of the property having other necessary documents in their own hands and ample means to defend themselves, while the claimants were poor and without proper advisers. Mr. Mobbs added that steps were in contemplation with the object of filing a bill of discovery of these documents. After some remarks by the coroner, that he could not go into the question of heirship of the property, the jury returned a verdict of "Death from pulmonary apoplexy." The value of the property claimed will, it is said, in consequence of the extensive buildings on it, be worth £3,500,000.—Manchester Guardian, October 31, 1862.

Two brothers named Kibolde, one of whom lives at Farnworth, near Bolton, and the other at Bury, both of them factory operatives, have, it is said, just come into a fortune of 2,000,000 francs. Their father served in the Crimean war, and after his death, the mother, it is asserted, deserted her children, three sons and a daughter. The latter was adopted by a French gentleman, and upon his decease, she entered a convent. The fortune left by her for the benefit of her brothers is 2,000,000 francs.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, December 10, 1882.

JOHNSON BOY TO GET A FORTUNE.

(From New York Herald.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Thursday.—J. C. Grannan, a detective, who has been here in search of the widow and son of the late Robert A. Johnson, left here early this morning for Knoxville, Tenn. He told a detective named Sullivan here that he located Adrian A. Johnson and his mother, who are heirs to property in Ireland, but he would not tell any of the particulars. It is reasonably certain that Mr. Grannan was given his clew by some of the Catholic clergy; that they referred him to the woman's father-confessor, who in turn gave the detective the information for which he had been seeking. Grannan has also cleared up the mystery of the relationship of the young man to Tom L. Johnson, the millionaire single-taxer.

Grannan describes young Johnson as a little red-haired "shaver" and exceedingly bright. He has been attending school in a Catholic institution near Louisville, coming home to see his mother once every week. It is probable that Grannan will take Mrs. Johnson and her son to New York within the next day or two, whence they will embark for Ireland.

The history of the case is very curious. Ellen and Margaret McMahon came here twenty-five years ago from County Tipperary, Ireland. Ellen first went to Cincinnati, but she finally came to Louisville and was employed as a governess by Robert A. Johnson, who had five children already by two wives. Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland and New York, married a daughter of R. A. Johnston's first wife, and this accounts for his interest in the matter, the boy being Mrs. Johnson's half-brother. After the death of the second wife Colonel R. A. Johnson married Miss Mc-Mahon, and through her the boy is entitled to a fortune in Ireland.

The detectives first set about to establish the validity of Colonel Johnson's marriage to his third wife. Mr. Grannan had heard that the marriage ceremony had been performed in New Albany, and the detectives went to that city to look through the court records. They not only received a copy of the marriage certificate, but found Fred Sauer, who was Deputy County Clerk at this time, and who makes affidavit that he witnessed the marriage ceremony. Colonel Johnson and Miss McMahon were married by a Catholic priest, the Rev. Father J. B. Kelly, on October 31, 1882.

It was also learned that Mrs. Johnson went to Knoxville, Tenn., where her child, Adrian A. Johnson, was born. Colonel Johnson joined his wife in Knoxville, and died there in 1886.

Charles F. Johnson of this city, a brother of Colonel Johnson, had the body of his brother taken to Lexington, where it was interred in the old Johnson burying ground. To Grannan Charles F. Johnson said he could not say a word against the widow of Colonel Johnson. He had, he said, always looked upon her as a very estimable and intelligent woman. He had only seen the child when the boy was about three years old, and he believed then that Colonel Johnson had left enough to provide comfortably for both.

The relatives of the widow here were uncertain as to whether she was in the city or not. They were inclined to believe she had gone to Ireland, and being a Catholic, educated her son in a Jesuit institution. She had never called upon them for assistance, and they had not heard of the fortune to which the boy and his mother are said to be heirs.

This fortune was amassed by Mrs. Johnson's grandfather while a trader in the East Indies, making his home in Bombay. By some provision in the will it became necessary even upon finding the heir, to establish the legality of the marriage, and the fact that the boy was born in wedlock. Gunn & Co., of London, placed the matter in the hands of agents in New York City, who in turn employed Cincinnati detectives. Grannan has established the fact of the marriage, and it is believed he has found the heirs.

£5,000 GOING BEGGING.

News of a Legacy Brought by a "Daily Mail" Paragraph.

A paragraph in the Daily Mail, headed "£5,000 Going Begging," will probably be the means of bringing £5,000 to a Manchester lady.

Mr. C. White Mortimer, the British Vice Consul at Los Angeles, Cal., last week made inquiry through our columns for the whereabouts of a Miss Constance Mills, the daughter of a Major Mills, known in America as "Bulwer," who died, leaving £10,000, half of which by that law of the country belonged to the undiscovered daughter.

A double surprise of grief and gladness was occasioned to Mrs. Constance Woodeson, wife of a Manchester architect, living at No. 25 Railway Road, Urmston, while reading the Daily Mail on Thursday. It conveyed to her tidings of her father's death, and further information that, under his will, a legacy of £5,000 is awaiting her in California.

About eight years ago Miss Mills says, her father, Major H. F. Mills, disappeared from England. None of his friends knew where he had gone, and the last letter his wife received was dated from "St. Stephen's Club, London." The Major was of a restless, roving disposition, and for some time, except for casual meetings by acquaintances in different parts of the world, his family heard nothing of him. He ultimately settled in California, and, according to information sent to England by the British Vice Consul at Los Angeles, he recently died, leaving an estate worth £10,000, and a will in favor of a Mrs. Bulwer.

Under a curious provision in California law, Mrs. Woodeson, his only child, is entitled to half the estate.

Major Mills formerly held a commission in the Devonshire Militia, and he is said to be distinctly connected with the Lytton family. That accounts for his adoption of the name of Bulwer while in America. He has a brother holding a prominent position in Salford. Mrs. Mills is a daughter of the late Mr. Richard Aspden, who was a prominent Manchester citizen.—Daily Mail, Monday, February 15, 1904.

LOOKING FOR HEIRS FOR A $1,500,000 ESTATE.

BALTIMORE, July 5.—Attorney James J. Lindsay, of Towson, Md., is in receipt of a letter dated June 3, from James P. Bray, United States Consul at Melbourne, Australia. Mr. Bray says that a James Tyson, whose parents emigrated to Australia from Cumberland, England, recently died in Melbourne, leaving an estate valued at $1,500,000. The property is in New South Wales and Queensland. Mr. Lindsay says he has learned that Mr. Tyson has near relatives living in Baltimore and Cecil counties, and as the millionaire died intestate they are entitled to a share in his estate if they can prove their relationship in legal form.

OLD "JARNDYCE VS. JARNDYCE" COMES INTO COURT AGAIN.

The Famous Old Lawsuit Made Ridiculous in Dicken's "Bleak House," Comes to Life Once More.

(From Chicago Sunday American, January, 15, 1905.

That oldest and most famous of law suits which Dickens described in his "Bleak House" as the case of "Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce," and supposed to have been long since buried forever, has come to life again. The venerable David Jennings, of Montreal, has just obtained permission of the British Chancery Court to re-open the contest for the Jennings fortune of $150,000,000, and the suit now promises to drag its interminable length through another century.

William Jennings, or Jennens, the British iron worker, died intestate in this country 104 years ago, leaving a fortune of $10,000,000. This fortune, which seemed much larger in those days when millionaires were few, proved a curse to every relative of the old man.

Jennings had scores of relatives in England and America, most of them like himself, well on the way to prosperity, but one and all joined in the fight for the great estate until their last cent had been spent in fruitless litigation.

Year after year the contest dragged along before the Chancery Court. As one generation of claimants were removed by time, bankruptcy or suicide, fresh ones sprang up and took their places. Barristers, whose first work had been to assist some older lawyer in the case, lived, grew gray-headed and died all on the same case.

In Charles Dickens's time it was going along merrily, and called forth the "Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce" satire from his pen.

Meanwhile the original $10,000,000 left by Jennings, most of which was in gilt-edged stocks, had gone on increasing, until, at the time that the struggle for its possession was supposed to be finally closed the Chancery Court's return estimated the fortune at the amazing sum of $150,000,000, which amount David Jennings, who is in possession of a perfect mass of evidence to prove his claim thereto, has come to this country to "lift," as Sir Thomas Lipton would say.

It was just about thirty years ago that the Jennings suit ended, the court deciding that the contested millions should remain in Chancery, while Earl Howe, who, by the way, is a direct descendant of Sir William Howe who commanded the British forces in the American Revolution, was left in possession of the rich Jennings property, which his lordship's aristocratic family might be said to have "jumped" immediately after William Jennings's death.

The estate includes Gopsall Hall, in Leicestershire, the roomy residence where Earl Howe recently entertained the King; Acton Place, Aston Hall, the so-called "Penn estates," and a house in aristocratic Curzon street, London. This decision having been reached by the Chancery Court, everyone supposed that the famous case had been settled for always.

For some time, however, there has been a significant activity among the Jennings claimants in this country whose hopes were dashed temporarily by the Chancery Court's decision in Earl Howe's favor. Not long ago one of them announced the discovery of documents throwing an entirely new light upon the case, and there have been other indications that the famous legal contest, upon which it is estimated that over $500,000 has been spent, would soon have to be opened again.

Then came the appearance on the scene of David Jennings, the Canadian claimant, an elderly man who has spent several years already in collecting documents to prove himself William Jennings's lineal heir, and whose claim is thought so well of by certain Montreal capitalists that they are backing him financially in the attempt which he proposes to make to get the Jennings acres and guineas away from Earl Howe.

Soon after his arrival in England, Jennings invaded the public record office, wherein the records of births, marriages and deaths since time out of mind are kept, and there for several weeks he has spent day after day in poring over the musty volumes in the search for further evidence on which to base his claim. He has refused obstinately to have anything to do with professional "searchers."

Whether the man who means to oust Earl Howe has discovered anything at the record office likely to assist him in doing so he declined to state, when questioned the other day, but it is significant that his solicitors now say that they hope to get him a hearing before the Chancery Court before July.

First, however, all the evidence upon which the claim is based—and this means thousands upon thousands of folios of closely written matter—must be read and discussed before a legal luminary called the Master in Chancery, who must decide whether the case is one that ought to occupy the attention of one or two of His Majesty's judges for a time that might exceed that of the first Jennings suit itself.

Hard work and sleepless nights appear to have left their mark on the old man, and when he was seen by the writer he was by no means inclined to straighten himself out to talk.

"I am disgusted," he commenced, "with the way the English newspapers have distorted the facts of my case. They have tried to make fun out of what is a very serious matter, both to me and to Earl Howe. The Earl does not take it so flippantly; I can assure you he understands the gravity of the situation.

"I am receiving many letters daily from all parts of the world, many of them resting their claims on manifestly imaginary foundations. There are claimants from New York, San Francisco, Buffalo, Toronto, New Mexico, Melbourne, Adelaide, Burman, Port Said, Paris, St. Petersburg and even Moscow."

"All claiming to be descendants of the celebrated William Jennings?"

"Yes, but I can, after years of hard work, trace the pedigree of only six out of a possible 300, and these, with two exceptions, live in America—two in San Francisco, one in Melbourne, one in New York, one in Toronto and one in Burmah."

"Are all these 300 contributing toward the cost of the present litigation?"

"Oh, dear, no; they are sending in claims, anticipating a windfall."

"Who is finding the money, then?"

"That is a subject I cannot discuss at present."

Here Mr. Jennings pulled himself up and appeared somewhat angry.

"William Jennings dying intestate, leaving no sons, how have you succeeded to the name of Jennings?"

"A Jennings married into the family and so the name was restored," was the quick reply.

"Do you really expect to win your case?"

"I ought to if there is justice in England."

"You are rather skeptical as to the result?"

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

"The Court of Chancery is an institution which the lawyers themselves have never been able to understand."

"If you succeed to all this wealth, what do you propose to do with it?"

"I am not so much interested in the money as I am in establishing the claims of my family and ancestors. I am an old man, and money can be of no great value to me."

Meanwhile, according to Mr. Jennings, Earl Howe is "laying low." The Canadian has communicated with His Lordship, suggesting an interview, by which litigation might be avoided, but the earl has not replied. As a matter of fact, Lord Howe has been threatened with eviction so many times before that he is probably getting a bit callous.

His lordship, by the way, is rather a picturesque figure. He is one of the youngest of English peers, and is treasurer to King Edward's household, as well as lord in waiting. But perhaps the earl is best known as a musician. He plays the organ with real brilliancy, and has a magnificent instrument at Gopsall Hall, his famous principal seat.

William Jennings was an aristocrat as well as a man of great wealth. His father had been an aide-de-camp to the great Duke of Marlborough, and he himself had William III. for a god-father, and as a boy, had been page to King George. But he was renowned most of all for his riches, a fortune of $10,000,000 such as his being counted a mighty one in those pre-Rockefeller days.

Jennings had inherited part of his fortune but he more than quadrupled his original heritage by speculation. He had a perfect genius for making investments—for instance, his shares in the Exchequer Tontine, for which he paid $500 each, brought him in $15,000 apiece for many years.

Strangely enough, it was the most trifling sort of an accident which led to Jennings dying without a will, and as a consequence to one of the most lengthy and expensive lawsuits in history. Only a few days before his death the old fellow, then ninety-seven years old, went down to his solicitors' office for the specific purpose of drawing up his last testament. When he came to sign it, however, he discovered that he had left his spectacles at home, so he put the will in his pocket and went off, saying that he would drop in again soon and close the matter up. A day or two afterward he was dead, and when his clothes were searched the "testament," worthless in law, was found in his pocket.

Up to the time of Jennings's death few people had begun to realize how wealthy he was. It was discovered that he had had property in almost every one of the existing funds, and it had been his habit to leave the dividends on most of his stock to accumulate year after year. He seems to have had money on all sides of him. In an iron chest, which he used to keep under his bed, they found bank notes worth $100,000 and $20,000 more in the shape of newly coined golden guineas.

Specimen showing the great value of the advertisements to which the names refer:—

ANN BURNETT, a granddaughter of the late JOHN HARRIS, of Clitheroe, in the county of Lancaster, who is supposed to have left Clitheroe in or about the year 1826, or any child or children lawful issue of the said ANN BURNETT, claiming to be entitled to participate in the LEGACY of £3,500, are to apply to London.—The Times.

ROBERT GREGORY BURGIS, of Worcester, England, who arrived at Sidney, New South Wales, from New Zealand, about the year 1854, and who left Sidney about twelve months subsequently, and who, if living, is entitled to a LEGACY of £1,000 under the will of his Aunt ——. If the said ROBERT GREGORY BURGIS is dead, his lawful widow, child, or children, or any person claiming through him, her, or them, are required to enter their claims to the said LEGACY at London.—New York Herald.

The following cases are quoted to show the enormous sums of money going begging, and for which claimants have been advertised:—Persons reading the advertisements would never dream that the sum to be claimed in these two cases alone amounted to £340,000.

Blake Estate	£140,000
Mangini Brown Estate	£200,000

Total	£340,000
